Medical plan

Prime offers two medical plan options, allowing you to decide how you pay for your health care.

- Consumer Driven Health Plan — This plan offers lower per-paycheck premiums, but higher out-of-pocket expenses. It offers the use of a tax-exempt Health Savings Account (HSA) to help you save money for medical expenses. Prime contributes money into your HSA: $500 for employee-only coverage or $1,000 if you are covering dependents. Contributions are prorated for new hires. You may contribute into an HSA up to the annual contribution limit.
- Traditional PPO Plan — This plan offers higher per-paycheck premiums, but lower out-of-pocket expenses. You may elect to contribute into a medical Flexible Savings Account (FSA) to be reimbursed for medical expenses through the plan year.

Both plan options use the same coverage network and cover the same services. The difference in the two plans is how you and Prime pay for your care. Premiums for both options are included in the table below.

We achieve this by empowering our employees to actively contribute through participation in the Diversity & Inclusion (D&I) Council, join and take leadership roles in employee resource groups to foster meaningful connections among colleagues and engage in continuous unconscious bias training. This collective effort helps us dismantle barriers and educate our team on vital DEI topics.

When a team is in the office, they have assigned days and a location, or hub, where they can all be together. Employees' home offices are the primary location for heads-down work that might have previously been done in a designated company office. When employees are in a designated company office, the focus should be on collaboration with colleagues.
